Mary Kom movie download 1080p free full hd.KARNAPUR: Sitting on a cloth platform, bleeding profusely and with half his body burnt, a 70-year-old farmer recently went in for his last rites at the Kamukundra Aanganwadi centre in Karnapur village of Chincholi, 80 km from here, as he had breathed his last on Monday due to severe chest burns. The farmer, Mohan Mathur, of Ramdurgu village, was admitted to a hospital for treatment but his condition worsened there and later on doctors at a private hospital in Aurangabad referred him to Chincholi Government Hospital where he breathed his last on Monday. Babu ji, a neighbour of Mathur, said, "It is not only a loss for the family, but a big loss for the entire village." Mathur's son, Kishore, said, "The family is in a state of shock. He is a farmer by profession and has a small land holding of about half an acre. His family depended on the income for his medical treatment, hospital accommodation and other expenses." The family is facing many difficulties in the wake of the incident. "As he had expired on Monday, no arrangements for the post-mortem could be made. The police did not allow the family for the last rites as they claimed the person was dead on arrival. Hence, he was buried on Tuesday." It is being suspected that 1cdb36666d
